

STATE NEWS.

Raleigh has a general intelligence office. One day last week there were 125 volumes in the town of Durham looked up by the State.

The Washington Herald now claims a circulation three times as large as that of any newspaper ever published in North Carolina.

The Asheville Pioneer has chosen Editor, E. R. Hampton becoming editor and proprietor. It will continue to publish at Asheville, on the 6th prox.

The Washington Express, a paper and pamphlet to its former Mayor, Mr. R. L. Myers, who, it says, would not accept a salary for his services.

The Madison Enterprise says: We have not taken a lot of followers which measure 12 inches long, by 16 inches wide, grown by Archibald Gray of Stokes county.

Eugene Mordecai, Esq., of Greensboro, has been appointed by the Governor a delegate to the Convention of Government which meets in Atlanta, Ga., on the 27th inst.

The Winston Sentinel says: The damage by the late rains and freshets has been immense. Uplands have been injured by washing, lowlands by water, and many of the bottom lands overflowed.

The Charlotte Observer says: The rain has taken a stout hold on this community and the people are being driven around with their jaws swollen to double the natural size, are altogether too numerous to mention.

The Charlotte Observer says: We learn that several nights ago Mr. J. Macdonald, of Blacksburg, was killed on the Charlotte, Columbia and Atlantic Railroad. It is supposed he fell down on the track and fell asleep. He was run over by the up-train.

The Washington Herald says: The heavy freshets have so swollen the river that the boats are being driven down the river with great rapidity, and as a consequence, the wheat crop will suffer severely, and it is expected that the rice crop will be ruined.

The Charlotte Observer says: Mr. W. A. Allen, of Salisbury, has written to Gen. Young, of this city, informing him of his purpose to address the citizens of Mecklenburg, in Charlotte, on the 27th inst. The subject of the organization of Farmers' Granges in this State, and upon other agricultural topics.

The North Carolina Conference Sunday School Society, which is holding its annual meeting in Charlotte last week, elected the following officers for the ensuing year: Rev. J. B. Bland, President; Rev. J. B. Bland, Secretary; and Rev. J. B. Bland, Secretary.

The Northern Times says: We are informed that a greater quantity of fish was transported from this market to the A. S. N. Railroad, during the month of April than any previous month since the shipping commenced. During that month there were about 100,000 fish transported from this market, which were shipped by the Northern dealers.

The Washington Express says: Throughout our country, the cotton crop is generally being planted from two to four weeks, and on account of the cold and drought has not been able to make its appearance above ground. It is expected that the cotton crop will be a good one, and that the weather of the past few days, is favorable to the growth of the cotton.

The Raleigh News says: The Western N. C. Railroad Commission was again in session yesterday. The proceedings were private, but were reported from outside sources. The Commission is of the opinion that they have found a solution of the difficulties between the two companies, and that the interest of the State will not suffer.

The Asheville Enterprise says: It is reported that Mr. Samuel McCarry and his son, ten or twelve years old, were drowned at Seven Island Ford, on the Charlotte, Columbia and Atlantic Railroad, on Saturday last. They had been on their way home, and were last seen on the bank of the river. Their bodies were found on the bank of the river, and were taken to the morgue.

The Raleigh News says: Last evening the Old-Fashioned Fraternity of this city gave a banquet in honor of the Raleigh News. The tables were arranged with elegance and taste which did not detract from the entertainment. The evening was a very successful one, and the proceeds were used for the benefit of the poor.

The Norfolk Virginian says: Millions of feet of lumber have been collected in North Carolina, and shipped to the Chowan river, through the Swamp to this city, where it is brought into merchantable timber at Ansonville and other places. The lumber is of a fine quality, and is much in demand.

As a change says that an old citizen of Asheville, who had lived in this city for the first time since 1851, had been arrested, saying he did not know anyone, except R. F. Hawley. He was eight years old when Asheville was founded, and did not know who the President was.

The Asheville Express says: A large number of Cherokee Indians are in the mountains of the Federal Court. We are informed that a man named Swainland, and another, were sent out from Washington some years since, to pay over a large amount of money to the Cherokee Indians. The man named Swainland, however, did not pay the money, and the Indians are now demanding it.

After investigation, the Assistant District Attorney, Major Erwin, concluded that the Indians were not entitled to the money. He sent a bill against them, and one General Bird of Washington, D. C., and others there and in North Carolina, for the Indians. The case stands for trial on the Circuit Court docket.

The Asheville Express says: A large number of Cherokee Indians are in the mountains of the Federal Court. We are informed that a man named Swainland, and another, were sent out from Washington some years since, to pay over a large amount of money to the Cherokee Indians. The man named Swainland, however, did not pay the money, and the Indians are now demanding it.

After investigation, the Assistant District Attorney, Major Erwin, concluded that the Indians were not entitled to the money. He sent a bill against them, and one General Bird of Washington, D. C., and others there and in North Carolina, for the Indians. The case stands for trial on the Circuit Court docket.

The Asheville Express says: A large number of Cherokee Indians are in the mountains of the Federal Court. We are informed that a man named Swainland, and another, were sent out from Washington some years since, to pay over a large amount of money to the Cherokee Indians. The man named Swainland, however, did not pay the money, and the Indians are now demanding it.

THE RICHMOND DUEL.

DEATH OF MR. MORDECAI.

It will be remembered that on the night of the duel Mr. Mordecai was taken, at his own request, by his friends, Messrs. E. R. Hampton, and J. W. Bland, Esq., of Wilson, to the residence of his cousin, Major L. T. D. Myers, on West Franklin street, near Monroe Park. Here he was the recipient of the most careful medical treatment, but he died on the 21st inst.

and although it was reported that his wound was mortal, his friends were encouraged to hope that his recovery was only a matter of time. But yesterday afternoon he died.

A CHARGE OF SUICIDE. It is a charge for the worse. Major Myers was at dinner, the hour being between 2 and 3 o'clock, when the attendants passed a note to him, stating that Mr. Mordecai was in the room, and was in a dangerous condition. Mr. Myers immediately went to the room, and found Mr. Mordecai lying on the bed, with his hands on his head, and his face pale.

Mr. Myers immediately went to the room, and found Mr. Mordecai lying on the bed, with his hands on his head, and his face pale. He immediately called for a doctor, and the doctor came, and found Mr. Mordecai in a dangerous condition. The doctor immediately went to the room, and found Mr. Mordecai lying on the bed, with his hands on his head, and his face pale.

The death was much at hand. The patient suffered much longer than a few hours at the most. As yet, as far as the medical men could tell, the wound was mortal. The patient was taken to the hospital, and the doctor immediately went to the room, and found Mr. Mordecai lying on the bed, with his hands on his head, and his face pale.

The Charlotte Observer says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Washington Herald says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Asheville Enterprise says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Raleigh News says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Norfolk Virginian says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Asheville Express says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Asheville Express says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Asheville Express says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Asheville Express says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Asheville Express says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Asheville Express says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Asheville Express says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Asheville Express says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Asheville Express says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Asheville Express says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Asheville Express says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Asheville Express says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

BROWN'S BLUNDER!

Overwhelming Sentiment in Favor of Gen. MacRae.

Schiffel doesn't think Brown's Contention is his business. The great excitement produced by the publication in yesterday's Herald of the different between Mr. Brown and General MacRae, the fact that both of them held their offices by the management of this paper, has been the subject of much discussion.

The great excitement produced by the publication in yesterday's Herald of the different between Mr. Brown and General MacRae, the fact that both of them held their offices by the management of this paper, has been the subject of much discussion.

The great excitement produced by the publication in yesterday's Herald of the different between Mr. Brown and General MacRae, the fact that both of them held their offices by the management of this paper, has been the subject of much discussion.

The great excitement produced by the publication in yesterday's Herald of the different between Mr. Brown and General MacRae, the fact that both of them held their offices by the management of this paper, has been the subject of much discussion.

The great excitement produced by the publication in yesterday's Herald of the different between Mr. Brown and General MacRae, the fact that both of them held their offices by the management of this paper, has been the subject of much discussion.

The great excitement produced by the publication in yesterday's Herald of the different between Mr. Brown and General MacRae, the fact that both of them held their offices by the management of this paper, has been the subject of much discussion.

The great excitement produced by the publication in yesterday's Herald of the different between Mr. Brown and General MacRae, the fact that both of them held their offices by the management of this paper, has been the subject of much discussion.

The great excitement produced by the publication in yesterday's Herald of the different between Mr. Brown and General MacRae, the fact that both of them held their offices by the management of this paper, has been the subject of much discussion.

The great excitement produced by the publication in yesterday's Herald of the different between Mr. Brown and General MacRae, the fact that both of them held their offices by the management of this paper, has been the subject of much discussion.

The great excitement produced by the publication in yesterday's Herald of the different between Mr. Brown and General MacRae, the fact that both of them held their offices by the management of this paper, has been the subject of much discussion.

The great excitement produced by the publication in yesterday's Herald of the different between Mr. Brown and General MacRae, the fact that both of them held their offices by the management of this paper, has been the subject of much discussion.

The great excitement produced by the publication in yesterday's Herald of the different between Mr. Brown and General MacRae, the fact that both of them held their offices by the management of this paper, has been the subject of much discussion.

The great excitement produced by the publication in yesterday's Herald of the different between Mr. Brown and General MacRae, the fact that both of them held their offices by the management of this paper, has been the subject of much discussion.

The great excitement produced by the publication in yesterday's Herald of the different between Mr. Brown and General MacRae, the fact that both of them held their offices by the management of this paper, has been the subject of much discussion.

The great excitement produced by the publication in yesterday's Herald of the different between Mr. Brown and General MacRae, the fact that both of them held their offices by the management of this paper, has been the subject of much discussion.

The great excitement produced by the publication in yesterday's Herald of the different between Mr. Brown and General MacRae, the fact that both of them held their offices by the management of this paper, has been the subject of much discussion.

The great excitement produced by the publication in yesterday's Herald of the different between Mr. Brown and General MacRae, the fact that both of them held their offices by the management of this paper, has been the subject of much discussion.

The great excitement produced by the publication in yesterday's Herald of the different between Mr. Brown and General MacRae, the fact that both of them held their offices by the management of this paper, has been the subject of much discussion.

The great excitement produced by the publication in yesterday's Herald of the different between Mr. Brown and General MacRae, the fact that both of them held their offices by the management of this paper, has been the subject of much discussion.

The great excitement produced by the publication in yesterday's Herald of the different between Mr. Brown and General MacRae, the fact that both of them held their offices by the management of this paper, has been the subject of much discussion.

The great excitement produced by the publication in yesterday's Herald of the different between Mr. Brown and General MacRae, the fact that both of them held their offices by the management of this paper, has been the subject of much discussion.

The great excitement produced by the publication in yesterday's Herald of the different between Mr. Brown and General MacRae, the fact that both of them held their offices by the management of this paper, has been the subject of much discussion.

THE RICHMOND DUEL.

DEATH OF MR. MORDECAI.

It will be remembered that on the night of the duel Mr. Mordecai was taken, at his own request, by his friends, Messrs. E. R. Hampton, and J. W. Bland, Esq., of Wilson, to the residence of his cousin, Major L. T. D. Myers, on West Franklin street, near Monroe Park. Here he was the recipient of the most careful medical treatment, but he died on the 21st inst.

and although it was reported that his wound was mortal, his friends were encouraged to hope that his recovery was only a matter of time. But yesterday afternoon he died.

A CHARGE OF SUICIDE. It is a charge for the worse. Major Myers was at dinner, the hour being between 2 and 3 o'clock, when the attendants passed a note to him, stating that Mr. Mordecai was in the room, and was in a dangerous condition. Mr. Myers immediately went to the room, and found Mr. Mordecai lying on the bed, with his hands on his head, and his face pale.

Mr. Myers immediately went to the room, and found Mr. Mordecai lying on the bed, with his hands on his head, and his face pale. He immediately called for a doctor, and the doctor came, and found Mr. Mordecai in a dangerous condition. The doctor immediately went to the room, and found Mr. Mordecai lying on the bed, with his hands on his head, and his face pale.

The death was much at hand. The patient suffered much longer than a few hours at the most. As yet, as far as the medical men could tell, the wound was mortal. The patient was taken to the hospital, and the doctor immediately went to the room, and found Mr. Mordecai lying on the bed, with his hands on his head, and his face pale.

The Charlotte Observer says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Washington Herald says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Asheville Enterprise says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Raleigh News says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Norfolk Virginian says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Asheville Express says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Asheville Express says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Asheville Express says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Asheville Express says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Asheville Express says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Asheville Express says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Asheville Express says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Asheville Express says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Asheville Express says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Asheville Express says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Asheville Express says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Asheville Express says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

THE RICHMOND DUEL.

DEATH OF MR. MORDECAI.

It will be remembered that on the night of the duel Mr. Mordecai was taken, at his own request, by his friends, Messrs. E. R. Hampton, and J. W. Bland, Esq., of Wilson, to the residence of his cousin, Major L. T. D. Myers, on West Franklin street, near Monroe Park. Here he was the recipient of the most careful medical treatment, but he died on the 21st inst.

and although it was reported that his wound was mortal, his friends were encouraged to hope that his recovery was only a matter of time. But yesterday afternoon he died.

A CHARGE OF SUICIDE. It is a charge for the worse. Major Myers was at dinner, the hour being between 2 and 3 o'clock, when the attendants passed a note to him, stating that Mr. Mordecai was in the room, and was in a dangerous condition. Mr. Myers immediately went to the room, and found Mr. Mordecai lying on the bed, with his hands on his head, and his face pale.

Mr. Myers immediately went to the room, and found Mr. Mordecai lying on the bed, with his hands on his head, and his face pale. He immediately called for a doctor, and the doctor came, and found Mr. Mordecai in a dangerous condition. The doctor immediately went to the room, and found Mr. Mordecai lying on the bed, with his hands on his head, and his face pale.

The death was much at hand. The patient suffered much longer than a few hours at the most. As yet, as far as the medical men could tell, the wound was mortal. The patient was taken to the hospital, and the doctor immediately went to the room, and found Mr. Mordecai lying on the bed, with his hands on his head, and his face pale.

The Charlotte Observer says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Washington Herald says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Asheville Enterprise says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Raleigh News says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Norfolk Virginian says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Asheville Express says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Asheville Express says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Asheville Express says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Asheville Express says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Asheville Express says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Asheville Express says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Asheville Express says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Asheville Express says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Asheville Express says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Asheville Express says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Asheville Express says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Asheville Express says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

THE RICHMOND DUEL.

DEATH OF MR. MORDECAI.

It will be remembered that on the night of the duel Mr. Mordecai was taken, at his own request, by his friends, Messrs. E. R. Hampton, and J. W. Bland, Esq., of Wilson, to the residence of his cousin, Major L. T. D. Myers, on West Franklin street, near Monroe Park. Here he was the recipient of the most careful medical treatment, but he died on the 21st inst.

and although it was reported that his wound was mortal, his friends were encouraged to hope that his recovery was only a matter of time. But yesterday afternoon he died.

A CHARGE OF SUICIDE. It is a charge for the worse. Major Myers was at dinner, the hour being between 2 and 3 o'clock, when the attendants passed a note to him, stating that Mr. Mordecai was in the room, and was in a dangerous condition. Mr. Myers immediately went to the room, and found Mr. Mordecai lying on the bed, with his hands on his head, and his face pale.

Mr. Myers immediately went to the room, and found Mr. Mordecai lying on the bed, with his hands on his head, and his face pale. He immediately called for a doctor, and the doctor came, and found Mr. Mordecai in a dangerous condition. The doctor immediately went to the room, and found Mr. Mordecai lying on the bed, with his hands on his head, and his face pale.

The death was much at hand. The patient suffered much longer than a few hours at the most. As yet, as far as the medical men could tell, the wound was mortal. The patient was taken to the hospital, and the doctor immediately went to the room, and found Mr. Mordecai lying on the bed, with his hands on his head, and his face pale.

The Charlotte Observer says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Washington Herald says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Asheville Enterprise says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Raleigh News says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Norfolk Virginian says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Asheville Express says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Asheville Express says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Asheville Express says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Asheville Express says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Asheville Express says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Asheville Express says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and was much respected by his friends. His death was a great loss to the community, and his friends are much distressed.

The Asheville Express says: The death of Mr. Mordecai was a great loss to the community. He was